AHI 814: HISTORY OF GENDER ISSUES IN AFRICA

Date: 5th March, 2018

Time: 9.30 - 12.30pm

INSTRUCTIONS:

- Answer ANY THREE Questions.

- Q1. Most African studies have painted a picture of a deeply patriarchal society run by council of elders with no input from women. Others have discounted this position. Using the two debating camps, elucidate the epithet that African women's history is notoriously difficult to find as it has been subsumed in the larger account of the seemingly unchanging male dominated narrative.
- Q2. Trace the development of gender studies in Africa.
- Q3. Analyze the impact of International Protocols on gender relations in Africa since 1945.
- Q4. "To many African men, the feminist movement is perceived to be inculcating women recalcitrance to African culture" (Tamale, 1985). Critically analyze this statement in reference to the achievements of the movement showing clearly how they are circumventing this challenge.
- Q5. To what extent has the 2010 constitution in Kenya emancipated women from their political embroglio?
- Q6. How has globalization either threatened or enhanced the gains made by African women in their socio-economic developments?
